Shea's Announces October Schedule of Performances & Events

Packed Schedule Offers Something for Everyone

Shea's Performing Arts Center released the schedule of productions and events for October. The month's lineup includes the Broadway musical, The Notebook, along with locally produced performances including Young Frankenstein by Starring Buffalo, Come From Away presented by MusicalFare Theatre, and Urinetown by Second Generation Theatre.

Free community events in October include the Barrio Poetry Slam, in celebration of Hispanic Heritage Month, and the 43North Finals. Shea's will also hold a new volunteer training session. If you are interested in volunteering as an usher or spotlight committee member for Shea's visit: www.sheas.org/volunteer-program.

For the 2025-26 season, Shea's has also introduced the "Stage and Story Book Club" connecting literature to upcoming Broadway productions. October's books center around the themes of love, memory, and connection associated with The Notebook musical. For more information, including this month's reads as well as bookstore and library partners, visit: <https://www.sheas.org/book-club>.
